5. Old Business:
Jacob Strong House Christine updated the commission members that a firm was chosen for the feasibility study on the Lippincott Property, and briefly described what was happening with the oil leak in the Naugatuck as described by the engineer at the IWC meeting.
Nothing new has happened with urban farming and community gardens.
6. New Business:
Scott Whittaker left the meeting, and the rest of the members drove and parked in the Baptist church parking lot across from the city's property on Newfield Rd. We walked the property on the west side of the stream until we came to what we thought was the border of the property. Christine used gps to determine members' exact position and we then walked the border of the property on the way back. The corner of the property is in a flow of large boulders, a possible intermittent stream that travels up and down the slope from west to east.
7. Adjournment: We walked back to our cars and adjourned the meeting at 6:45.
